정부초청외국인장학생

Coming to South Korea to attend university was a big journey for me. I had had this dream since 2015 when I was 18 years old, and through Dankook University, I got to make this dream come true in 2020. I was really scared, because my home country, Brazil, is literally on the other side of the world, so there are countless cultural differences. I was also scared because I was a little older than my classmates, me being 23 and most of them being 19-20. I was afraid we wouldn't get along or become close. But it turned out I became everyone's favorite "Unnie" and we all get along pretty well despite the language barrier, age, and cultural differences. I've met some amazing people here at Dankook University. I didn't know this before coming to Dankook, but it turns out Dankook has the best Musical Theater major in all of South Korea, and it shows. The people I see every day here are so incredibly talented it leaves me speechless. I didn't have much experience before coming here, but I've improved a lot in such a short amount of time, thanks to all the amazing professors here and the help of my classmates as well. I know I'm on the right path to becoming a great... whatever I'll become in the future (Actress? Dancer? Not sure yet...)

Before coming here, I have already met a few Koreans, but there are always many barriers, especially when reading academic texts. I faced some difficulty because of the language, but everyone around me here at Dankook University was always willing to help me, for which I am incredibly thankful. Especially, the courses offer separate classes for foreigners, and I think this was very important in my journey to maintaining a good GPA because those classes are made to accommodate the possible language barrier and make learning a pleasant experience for us. The teachers at the International Office were always of great help too. I am a person who usually has a lot of questions about how to register for a class, asking for help to print a document, etc. The International Office was always helpful, answering my questions quickly and always being kind and respectful.

My dream of studying in Korea might have taken a long to become true, but I can see now that it was the right time and the right decision to come when I came. Living abroad is an extraordinary experience. Every day I spend time here at Dankook University, I become more independent and grow as a person and professional. I still have a couple of years to study here, but thinking about this ending makes me sad already.

I had always dreamed of studying abroad in Korea someday, as I have a great love for Korean culture and language. Dankook University has made my dream come true since I first came here for the Korean Language Course. It was my first time ever going to a foreign country without my family, so I was scared and worried a lot because I knew I would have to handle everything on my own. However, from the very moment I reached DKU, I was surprised by the warm-hearted welcome of the teachers from the International Office, which rendered all of my concerns irrelevant. After graduating from the Korean Language Course, I decided to enroll in the undergraduate program here, majoring in Korean Language and Literature. By simultaneously pursuing both the language program and undergraduate program at Dankook University, I have come to appreciate the passion and care that all the teachers and professors at the university show, particularly towards foreign students. Professors here always hope that foreign students at DKU can have a wonderful time and gain valuable experiences while studying in Korea. Recognizing the challenges faced by foreign students in taking classes in Korean, professors consistently strive to create the most favorable learning conditions and are always willing to assist students dealing with academic difficulties or provide advice whenever needed. Additionally, there are some classes conducted in English alongside the Korean ones, which not only make me feel more comfortable at school but also help me improve my English skills while enhancing my proficiency in Korean.

Going back to the time when I first arrived in Korea, I was extremely shy and lacked proficiency in the Korean language, as well as social skills. Consequently, I had no confidence in communicating with Korean people. However, thanks to the teachers of the Global Education Team at the International Office, my study abroad experience in Korea became much more enjoyable and comfortable. They have always been readily available to assist us with any problems and have consistently strived to maintain the well-being of students while also safeguarding the interests of international students living in Korea. They have provided significant help with matters related to visa paperwork, dormitory issues, academic concerns, and more. Taking care of all international students' needs is undoubtedly a complex task, but they handle it brilliantly, which makes me deeply thankful for everything they have done for us.

Dankook University paved the way for an incredible start to my journey of exploring Korea. I hope that what I have shared above can help you make an informed decision when seeking a suitable study abroad environment for yourself.

From a young age, I've been captivated by Korean TV shows, and this passion naturally evolved into a deep interest in Korean culture and a strong desire to experience life in Korea firsthand. It wasn't until I met a Korean friend that I found the encouragement and affirmation I needed to take this life-changing step. She recognized my talent for the Korean language and suggested that it would be a good idea for me to study and work in Korea. I began exploring my career path in earnest and finally decided to enroll in the Department of International Trade at Dankook University.

After thorough research and contemplation of various universities, I ultimately chose Dankook University, and it's been a decision I've never regretted. One of the most compelling reasons behind my choice was Dankook University's exceptional scholarship program. The university goes above and beyond to support international students like me, even providing free dormitories, which reduces my financial burden. Moreover, the teachers of the International Office, Global Education Team, have been incredibly helpful to international students like us. They were always quick to provide information and did so kindly to make sure we understood everything we needed.

After entering Dankook University, I discovered an array of additional advantages that reinforced my decision. The professors at Dankook University are not only knowledgeable but also remarkably considerate of foreign students. They try to create an environment where international students can adjust easily to the classroom, encouraging collaboration with Korean students on assignments and highlighting the importance of cooperation. Whenever needed, they also guide us toward valuable opportunities such as internships, ensuring that our educational experience extends beyond the classroom.

Dankook University has a big campus with excellent facilities, including a well-stocked library and a student cafeteria that offers delicious meals at affordable prices. And also, provides plenty of study rooms that are perfect for both exam preparations and group discussions on assignments. These facilities are incredibly convenient and conducive to effective learning. Furthermore, the diversity of student clubs provides more opportunities to form meaningful connections with Korean students from various majors, allowing me to expand my horizons and engage with a wide range of people. Other than that, Dankook University has also provided many comprehensive career exploration and self-management programs that can assist us in charting a course for our future.

Dankook University has not only provided me with an excellent education but also an enriching cultural experience. Their dedication to supporting international students, coupled with their outstanding academic and extracurricular offerings, has made my time here truly memorable. If you're considering studying in Korea, I wholeheartedly recommend Dankook University as the ideal place to pursue your dreams.

My journey at Dankook University began as a student at the Korean Language Center in 2022. In May 2023, I enrolled in the International Business major as a full-time student. Studying abroad in Asia had always been my dream, but I hesitated to take such a significant step due to fears of feeling lonely and lost in a foreign country, nearly 8,000 kilometers away from my home country. However, everything changed when I discovered Dankook University (DKU).

Thanks to DKU's outstanding international team, which provides guidance and support to foreign students throughout the admission process and their entire academic journey, I always had a helping hand and someone I could rely on. Thanks to their assistance, I was able to pursue my dream without much worry.

I recall my first day on DKU's campus. I was overwhelmed by its size and the numerous facilities it offered. Nevertheless, I quickly found my way around, thanks to other students who showed me around. Meeting my classmates for the first time alleviated any concerns I had about adjusting because everyone was incredibly welcoming and friendly. The same warmth and kindness extended to all the Korean teachers and professors I encountered. In addition to their impressive qualifications, they are always willing to lend a helping hand, making the learning experience much more enjoyable.

Beyond providing quality education, Dankook University offers a wide range of extracurricular activities, that allow me to socialize with students from different majors and forge friendships with people from all around the globe. Furthermore, small events and annual festivals DKU organizes for us students provide a welcome break from the sometimes strenuous exam period, allowing me to cherish memorable moments with friends.

To date, I have never regretted choosing this path and have adjusted exceptionally well. As I have a few more years left until graduation, I am also very excited for what more is to come. If you are seeking to make the most of your abroad experience just like me, I wholeheartedly recommend studying at Dankook University.

Before coming to Korea, I was often warned that life as a foreigner would be incredibly challenging—marked by social barriers, difficulty in forming connections, and an overwhelming sense of competition. However, my experience at Dankook University (DKU) has been quite the opposite. I was able to adapt quickly and seamlessly, without the significant culture shock I had initially feared.

I am deeply grateful for the financial support I've received, including a dormitory scholarship that eases my living expenses and a merit-based tuition scholarship that keeps me academically driven. Beyond the financial aspects, the true highlight of my time here is the community. I feel fortunate to be surrounded by kind, supportive peers, professors, and staff who have made me feel at home.

For someone who loves the energy of city life but appreciates a tranquil environment, DKU offers the perfect balance. The spacious campus is a peaceful retreat, yet its proximity to Seoul allows me to enjoy the best of both worlds. This balanced lifestyle, combined with a productive schedule, has kept homesickness at bay and allowed me to fully immerse myself in Korean culture.

My extracurricular journey has been equally rewarding. After joining various student clubs, I challenged myself by joining The Dankook Herald, the official English newspaper under the Dankook Media Center. Rising from a trainee to a regular reporter, and eventually to Reporting Director, provided me with invaluable opportunities—including participating in the 'Study Korea 300K Project' in Sapporo, sponsored by the Korea Press Foundation.

Additionally, serving as a student assistant at DKU's Office of International Affairs has allowed me to create promotional content and support my fellow international students. These roles have provided me with meaningful practical experience that goes beyond the classroom. Ultimately, DKU has transformed my university years into a deeply valuable and memorable journey that I will carry with me long after graduation.

"Dankook University: A Place to Shine and Rebuild Your Dreams"

Youths are the future of our world. Every young person possesses a unique light, and they deserve the opportunity to shine their brightest. To do so, they need an environment that fosters opportunity and supports their journey. That place, for me, is "University."

My educational journey in my home country was tragically interrupted by a military coup and civil war. Driven by a desire to continue my studies, I decided to go abroad. Like many international students, I was deeply concerned about language barriers and cultural differences. To prepare, I dedicated a year to learning the Korean language and culture before arriving here as a freshman in March 2025.

Stepping onto campus, I was filled with anxiety. I worried about the teaching methods and whether I would fit into university society. Although I had previously studied engineering, the transition was difficult at first. However, I am truly grateful for the supportive academic environment at Dankook University. The professors and the staff at the International Office are incredibly friendly; they guided me through my learning difficulties and helped me adapt my study methods. Their doors are always open to students, whether for academic advice, campus life, or personal concerns.

Beyond academics, campus life and friendship are the heart of the university experience. Dankook University embraces diversity, allowing you to build meaningful connections with both Korean and international students. Sharing in campus activities and festivals together has been an amazing experience. Whether it's participating in sports or joining student clubs, these moments capture the true essence of being a student.

The atmosphere here is warm, free, and inclusive. Currently, I am serving in the International Student Association, where I am making new friends and preparing for my future—not only as an engineer but as a well-rounded human being.

As a second-year student still learning and growing, I wholeheartedly recommend Dankook University to any freshman feeling unsure about their future. I am confident that Dankook is a place where you can learn at your own pace, discover your true interests, and steadily build the foundation for your dreams.

Choosing Dankook University was one of the most pivotal decisions of my life. I graduated high school at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic—a time when global opportunities were scarce and studying abroad felt nearly impossible. Despite these hurdles, I was determined to expand my horizons. Dankook University stood out to me not only for its prestige but as one of the few Korean institutions offering comprehensive degree programs taught entirely in English, paired with generous scholarships for international students.

Arriving in Korea alone, with no local connections and limited Korean language skills, was a daunting prospect. However, the university's welcoming infrastructure—from the dedicated airport pick-up service to the mentorship of supportive upperclassmen—immediately eased my transition. This sense of security allowed me to focus on my academic goals from day one.

Over the past four years, Dankook has provided me with endless opportunities for personal and academic evolution. I immersed myself in diverse student clubs and pursued my passion for journalism through the university's official English newspaper. Perhaps most rewarding was the process of learning the Korean language through daily life on campus, fulfilling one of my primary goals for moving here.

In an era that prizes continuous growth and global perspectives, Dankook University offers the perfect environment to challenge oneself and thrive. I can confidently say that my time here has shaped my character, allowed me to form lifelong connections, and brought me significantly closer to my career aspirations. For any student seeking a truly global and transformative education, I wholeheartedly recommend Dankook University.

As an international student from the Kyrgyz Republic, returning to Korea—the land of my historical roots—has been a deeply meaningful journey. My goal is to master the fundamentals of media and communication to build a career in advertising and brand-focused content creation.

My passion for visual media, specifically photography, began at an early age. Developing an eye for composition and detail early on shaped my visual thinking and served as the catalyst for my professional interest in the media industry.

This passion is what led me to Dankook University. Recognized as one of Korea's leading institutions, DKU is distinguished by its rigorous academic foundation, modern facilities, and commitment to practice-oriented education. The programs in media, communication, and digital content are perfectly aligned with current industry demands and are designed to nurture student creativity.
